This research is motivated by the problems that occur at SMAN 1 Manonjaya, namely the low student learning outcomes or not reaching the minimum completeness criteria (KKM) determined in economics subjects. The purpose of the study was to determine the effect of applying the discovery learning model with the help of scrapbook media in improving student learning outcomes in economics subjects on national income material. The method used in this research is quasi experiment in the form of the non-equivalent control group design, and data collection techniques through multiple choice tests. The population in this study were all XI social studies classes at SMAN 1 Manonjaya in the 2023/2024 school year which amounted to 176 students. The sample used was XI IPS 1 class which amounted to 34 people as an experimental class and XI IPS 2 class which amounted to 35 people as a control class with sampling using purpose sampling. The results showed that there was an influence on the discovery learning model with the help of scrapbook media in improving student learning outcomes in economics subjects on national income material, where  $H_a$  was accepted if the Sig. (2-tailed) value  $\leq 5\%$  or 0.05 and based on the research results obtained a Sig. (2-tailed) value of 0.000 < 0.05. The average score of the experimental class was higher than that of the control class. The average score of the experimental class is higher than the control class, thus it can be concluded in this study that the discovery learning model with the help of scrapbook media can improve student learning outcomes.
