

MOTTO

“Why don’t we look at our dreams once again?

The dreams we lost yesterday because they never come true.

We suffered in the past but we will try harder in the future.”

“Dreams are something to look at twice.

Because our youth was full of passion and challenges, we lost sight of something very important.

But, still, we can dream for a second time.

This time, we will surely dream to the fullest and make them come true.”
