

PREFACE

This research entitled “The Analysis of Online Headline News of Indonesian Teachers’ Performance During Online Learning: A Discourse Study”. The topic covered is about how online media describe teachers’ performance during online learning in a pandemic. It is submitted to English Education Department, Faculty of Educational Sciences and Teachers’ Training, Siliwangi University, as partial fulfillment of the requirements of my bachelor degree.

This thesis is formed with introduction, literature review, methodology, and results. The introduction provides the gap, formulation of the problems, operational definitions, aims of the research, and significances of the study. The literature review provides brief information about critical discourse analysis of media. The research design used in this study is Critical Discourse Analysis (CDA) by the standpoint of Critical Discourse Analysis (CDA) by Fairclough and Wodak (1995). Moreover, the data collected from several popular websites of online news portals of foreign and local Media. Then, the results of this study were categorizing the headlines from a surface-level of headline that is plain headline, speech of headline, and headline of pointer by discursive devices that supported reveal the ideology that exists in the headlines.

The author realizes that this thesis has weaknesses. Therefore, the author will greatly receive suggestions and criticism from the readers. Finally, The author hopes this thesis will be useful for the readers and me.

Tasikmalaya, July 2022

Monika Rahayu